BREED THEATER. Frozen North, Sensational Klondike Picture.

On the excellent programme of feature pictures at the Breed theater for the first part of this week is the superb story of Klondike life entitled In the Frozen North, and much interest attached to the various scenes in the snow fields where traffic is only possible by the aid of the Eskimo dogs and eleds and snowshoes. There is a thrilling story that is filled with intense action and keeps the audience in rapt attention during its entire portrayal. The manners and customs of the dwellers in the extreme north are clearly defined, and the closing scene shows the hero, after accomplishing his mission of mercy, plodding on his snowshoes, through the snow-laden air of the distance.

EXAMINED MILK Sold at Collinsville-Two Out of Six Samples Unsatisfactory.

In compliance with the request of the state board of health, Health Officer Dr. George F. Lewis has had an analysis taken of milk sold by six milkmen doing business in Collinsville. If over 100,000 bacteria are found per cubic centimeter, the milk is unsatisfactory; if over 500,000, the milk is bad. Under 19,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter indicates very good milk, and under 50,000 good milk.

The samples of milk were sent to the state bacteriological laboratory at Middletown, and the analysis showed one sample containing but 4,000 bacteria, which indicates exceptionally good milk, and three other samples containing 5,000, 7,000 and 15,000 respectively, also excellent results. The two remaining samples, however, are unsatisfactory, these showing respectively 250,000 and 227,500 bacteria. The authorities claim that this "high bacterial content" may be due to uncleanliness in utensils or in the dairy or to insufficient cooling, or to the milk being kept too long. A "fat content" of less than 3.25 per cent. is illegal, but the analysis showed that all six samples contain a much better percentage than the above legal limit.

None of the samples showed signs of watering, which shows the honesty of Collinsville milkmen. The two milkmen whose samples of milk were unsatisfactory will undoubtedly remedy the trouble at once, as it is marely a matter of being more careful in regard to cleanliness, cooling or freshness.

SURPLUS OF $18,067. Administrator of P. T. Barnum's Estate Divides Excess Above Widow's

A trust and safe deposit company of artford, administrator of the estate Phineas T. Barnum, has filed its amial report with the probate court the Bridgeport district, and it shows at there is an excess income of $18.
7.75 which the administrator petities to have distributed to the resi-the sto have distributed to the residuary legatees.

This income is from a fund established by P. T. Barnum for his wife, she to get $46,000 a year. This fund has grown so rapidly that each year there has been an excess income which has been paid over to the residuary legatees. Last year's excess was a little more than this car.

Those who are to share in this distribution and the amount they will get are as follows: Caroline Thompson $8.022.59. Helen Rennell $3,011.27. estate of Julia H. Clarke $3,011.27. estate of Jessica B. S. Marshall $2,007.54, Herbert B. Sceley $2,007.54, C. Barnum Seeley $2,007.54.

ternoon will be devoted to the children of the public schools. It is probable that during the week Mr. Zerbe will deliver a lecture to the school children deliver a lecture to the school children, but the date has not been announced. Mr. Zerbe was chief of the numismatic department at the Louisiana Purchase and the Lewis and Clark expositions. His collection of the coins of the world is probably one of the most complete in this or any other country. He is recognized as one of the leading authorities on coinage.

It has taken years of endeavor, much travel, forfunate opportunities and official association to get together the great display of the moneys of the civilized and uncivilized world. They are all there, collected through what labors only Mr. Zerbe can tell.—Waterbury Republican.

Preserving Graduation Essays and Orations.

A graduate of the Hartford public high school in the class of 1879 shows his interest in the school of thirty years later by having printed in a handsome pamphlet the essays and orations which made up the graduation exercises of the class of 1909. The member of the class of 1879 is sending copies of the book to his classmates and the pamphlet will also have a place in the school library, this being the first attempt to put in permanent form the annual exercises.

UNCLE HIRAM'S VISIT.

Yen, it's lively in the city, where they've got their lectric lights.

And the people soon have wrinkles from their stayin' out o' nights;

They've got shows and things to keep 'em from a gittin lonesome thero and they took all-fired stylish in the costly clo's they wear;

But I gless they have their troubles, just the same as me and you.

And I recken that they're often ruther worse'n ours, too.

We've got wood piled in the weedshift
that'll last a year or so.
And there's more out where that come from, and more saplin's still to grow;
We ain't worried over coal strikes, let
the cold winds blow away,
We can carry in the billets and not have a cent to pay;
While they're shiverin' up yonder where they've got so much to see,
We can heat up for the bables that the Lord sent you and me.

There is always somethin' doin' to make city people sad:

If it ain't a sansage famine, why, you'll hear the water's bad;
When the strikers stop the street cars, then the mischief is to pay.

And the people have to foot it, gittin' clubbed along the way;
And the fever epidemics and the small-pox every yoar

Keep the city people stewin', and I'm glad to live out here.

Oh, it's quiet in the country, and there's few uncommon sights,
And God's moon and stars up yonder have to do for 'lectric lights'.
But with 'taters in the collar and wood piled in the shed,
When there's hay stacked in the haymows for the steck that must be fed;
They can have their noisy city, with the sights up there to see,
And the kind old quiet country will be good enough for me.

IF YOU CAN CATCH ON THE COMET'S There's a chance to get to the big blue If your faith, it doesn't fall, if you'll just rise up at the break

And catch on the comet's tall! Oh, what's the use for to live and sigh In this terrestial vale? Just tell your lever and friends good-And catch on the comet's tail!

And your soul will soar to the Ever More.
Like breakin' out o' jail,
You'll freely rise to the big blue skiel
If you catch on the comet's tall'

"On, I'm surprised!" exclaimed Miss Gaddle; "and you a Sunday school teacher, too!" "But," Miss Goodley protested, "the minister bimself told us it's always better to understate a thing than to exaggerate."—Catholic Stanoard.

MUCH IN LITTLE

The total losses through robbery of the banks in the American Bankers' association since 1895 are said to be only $147,000.

The resources of all the banks of the country amount to about twenty-one billion dollars, or about one-fifth of the entire wealth of the country. Beginning with 1887, when Speyer & Co, raised ten million dollars for the Mexican railways, about one billion dollars of American money has poured into Latin America.

There are $686,000,000 of national bank notes extant, backed by government bonds.
